

Christmas Eve

Alessandra Calamai

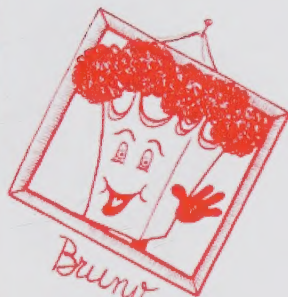

Scarlett

Charles

Bruno

Scarlett

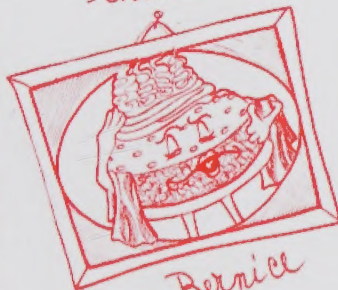

Charles

Bruno

Fred

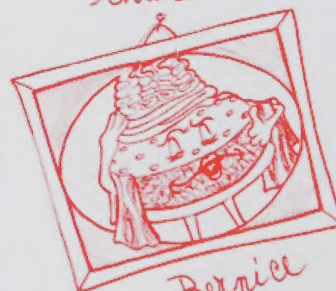

Bernice

Scott

Fred

Bernice

Scott

Scarlett

Charles

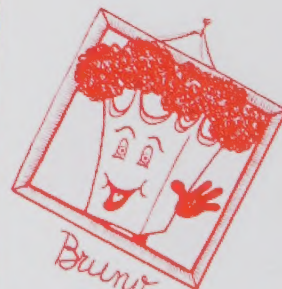

Bruno

Scarlett

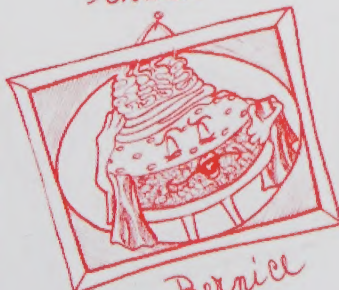

Charles

Bruno

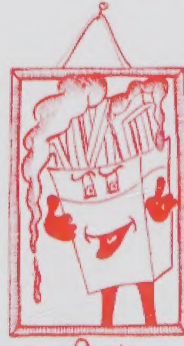

Fred

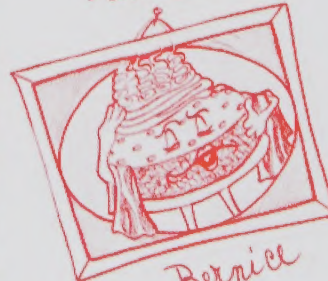

Bernice

Scott

Fred

Bernice

Scott

Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2024

<https://archive.org/details/christmaseve0000frot>

Scarlett

Charles

Bruno

Scarlett

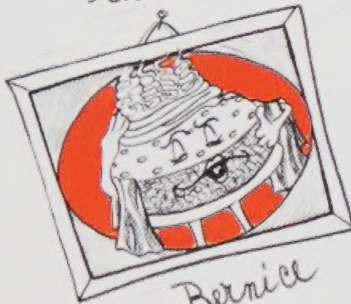

Charles

Bruno

Fred

Bernice

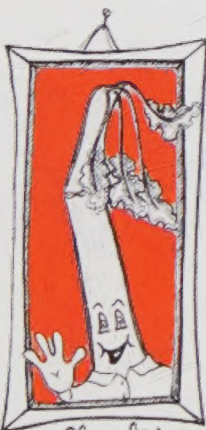

Bernice

Scarlett

Scarlett

Charles

Bruno

Fred

Charles

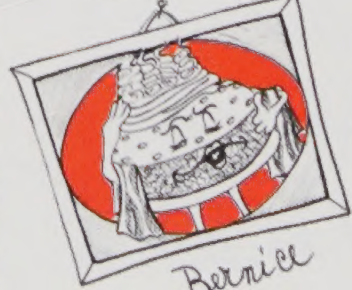

Bruno

Fred

Bernice

Bernice

Scarlett

"This is the best
Christmas Eve
EVER!"
Charles whispered to Scarlett who,
joyously pirouetting
next to him, answered with a big smile,
"Yes it is!"

This book is a work of fiction.
Names, characters and places are the products of the author's imagination.
Any resemblance to anything even remotely similar to the story or characters is purely coincidental.

WORDIERME CHILDREN'S BOOKS

Copyright 2017 by Alessandra Calamai.
The book's author retains sole copyright to her contributions to this book.
ISBN 978-0-9970887-9-3

Christmas Eve

Alessandra Calamai

Dear Jacob
Eat well!
Have Fun!
Alessandra

It was a beautiful day in Foodville.

Celery Charles and his pals were very excited because it was Christmas Eve.

Every year the fruits and vegetables gathered in their greenhouse to open a special present under the big Christmas tree.

Celery Charles opened his present first.
It was a stylish cream cheese shirt with granola buttons.

"That looks comfy, Chuck!" Bruno exclaimed!
"And handsome!" Scarlett added to a blushing Charles.

Next it was Bruno's turn to open his present. It was a soccer ball.
Broccoli Bruno loved soccer!

He started kicking his new ball showing off his tricks to everyone.
It was a lot of fun!

When Strawberry Scarlett opened a pretty box,
she found a lovely ruby colored cranberry necklace.

"So perfect! Merci! Merci!" Scarlett whispered.
She put it on and joyously twirled all over the greenhouse.

"You look very pretty with that on Scarlett!"

Charles bashfully mumbled.

Everyone clapped.

All the fruits and veggies were opening their presents.

Benny Banana was flip-flopping around in his new bright neon flips flops.

Pear Paula was showing off her chic Swiss cheese accessories;

while Amelia, a wise green apple, was busy reading her new book.

Outside the greenhouse, Burger Bernice and her fast food buddies were watching.
They wished they, too, had presents to open.

Charles noticed the sad fast foods and quickly disappeared behind the big Christmas tree followed by his good pals Scarlett and Bruno.

The three friends came back carrying beautiful packages and invited the fast foods to join them in their greenhouse.

The fast foods couldn't believe their eyes.
What a wonderful surprise!

Scarlett presented Bernice with a chic, fresh lettuce skirt and a stylish red hat crafted from a tomato.

"I feel so light!"
Bernice whispered, delighted.

Bruno handed Fred Fries a new pair of soccer shoes,
so they could play together with his new soccer ball.

"I LOVE SOCCER!" Fred yelled. "Look how fast I am, everybody!"

Running, Fred shed lots of heavy ketchup.
He felt energized and kept kicking the ball around tirelessly.
Everybody clapped and cheered.

Next, bubbly Scott Soda received his present.
It was a cool, nice smelling slice of fresh lemon.

Scott put it into his fizzy bubbles and happily fizzzzzed.
"This feels SO refreshing! Thank you Charles!
Thank you everyone!"

The fast foods were grateful for all their gifts.

What especially made them happy was being included in the fruits and veggies' special celebration!

Everybody enjoyed Christmas Eve!
Burger Bernice, in her new gorgeous outfit, broke into a happy tango with Broccoli Bruno.

They were soon joined by all the merry foods.

"This is the best Christmas Eve EVER!" Charles voiced to Scarlett who answered with a big smile,

"Yes it is!"

JUST IN FROM THE WORD NUTS

Hello there! Are you a word nut too?

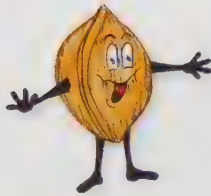

We sure hope so because we found a great new word for you in this story.
Did you find it? It's 'included'. WOW! We love this word! It is a happy word!
What does it mean? It means 'to be made part of something'.

If a group of children are playing a game and invite a child who is alone to join them, they are 'including' him and he is being 'included' to play with them.

Charles and his pals invited Bernice and her fast food buddies to join them during their Christmas Eve festivities. They 'included' them, and the fast foods were so happy to be 'included'!

PEEK-A-BOO

Hi! It's us again.
We love playing with you and thought we could play hide and seek together.
As you know there are seven of us:

Walle

Allia

Penny

Cash

Hans

Pete

Pino

So here is the deal:

Each of us will hide in the illustration
on one page of the story.
Come to find us?

Since there are seven of us, we will only be hiding on seven pages.

We are very good at hide and seek, so make sure you pay attention to all the illustrations if you want to find us.

We will be playing hide and seek with you in all the books of the Celery Charles & Pals' stories.

Do you think you could call us
by our names when you find us?
Wouldn't that be awesome?!

HAVE FUN SEARCHING!

Your Nut Friends

From a chirping little bird:

Walle counts presents on page 9

Hans seats on a wheel on page 10

Penny strikes a pose on page 15

Allia checks Bernice's present on page 19

Cash hangs in there on page 21

Pete cheers Scott on page 22

Pino tangoes on page 24

DID YOU KNOW?

Christmas trees grow for about 15 years before they are sold and we decorate them.

The earliest known decorations were dried apples, which were then followed by other ornaments made with natural elements; like pine cones, slices of citrus often decorated with fragrant cloves, cinnamon sticks, walnuts and acorns.

Not only were the ornaments pretty, they also released a nice scent around the festive tree.

Cranberry-Almond Perfect Parfait

Ingredients per child

- 1/3 cup granola
- 1 tablespoon of dried cranberries
- 1 teaspoonful of shaved almonds*
- 1/3 cup plain, low fat yogurt
- 1 teaspoon liquid honey

In a cup or glass mix the granola with the cranberries and almonds top with the yogurt drizzle everything with honey.

With a teaspoon, your little one will enjoy her/his perfectly delightful treat!

In the event of allergies to nuts, substitute the almonds with dark chocolate chips.

Alessandra Calamai

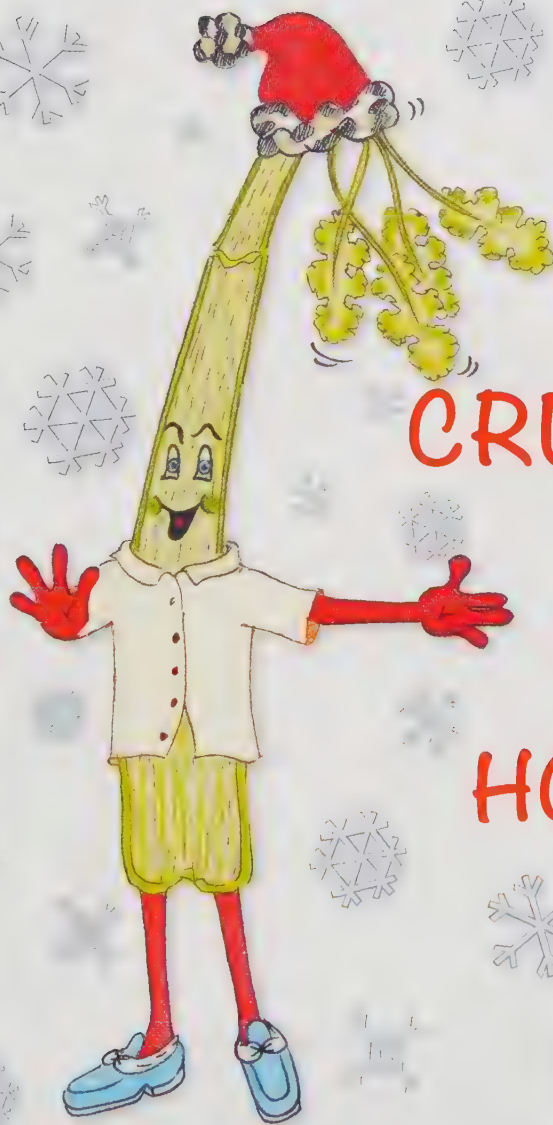

I was born and raised in Florence, one of the most praised cradles of Italian art.

Since earning a degree in Visual Arts and Graphic Design from the Accademia Cappelletto, I have experimented with various techniques and applications, practicing graphic and fabric design as well as designing labels for prestigious wines from the famous Chianti area.

My experience has spanned from Florence, where I worked for Architectural Studios and the renowned Couture Sportswear Firm "Count of Florence," to a Fabric Design Studio based in New York.

While raising my family, I created 'Antologia di Sassi' ('The Stones' Anthology', acalamai.com). My paintings are in private collections in Tuscany, Rome, Milan, Lecce, Switzerland, New York, NY, the Hamptons, NY, Vail, CO, and Watch Hill, RI.

Writing and illustrating children books has been in the back of my mind for a while, and now, as an empty nester, I have enthusiastically embarked on this new and exciting enterprise.

CRUNCHY-FY YOUR HOLIDAYS!

Scarlett

Charles

Bruno

Scarlett

Charles

Bruno

Fred

Bernice

Also from "Celery Charles & Pals":

Show and Tell

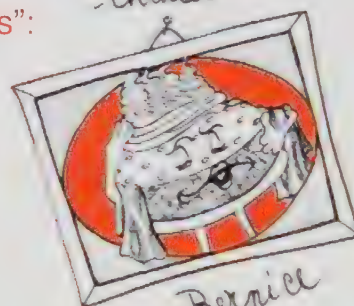

Bully Me NOT!

Halloween

Winter Break

Valentine's Day

The Easter Egg Hunt

Bernice

Scott

Scarlett

Charles

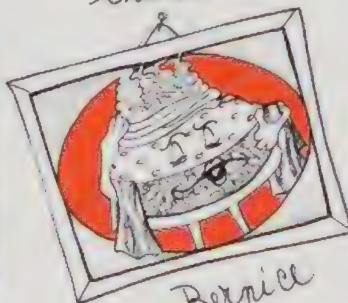

Charles

Bruno

Fred

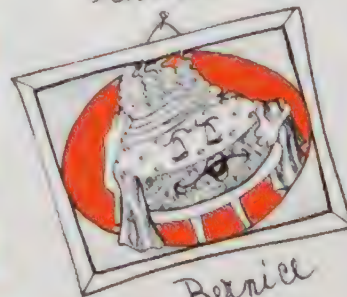

Bernice

Scott

Fred

Bernice

Scott

Scarlett

Charles

Bruno

Scarlett

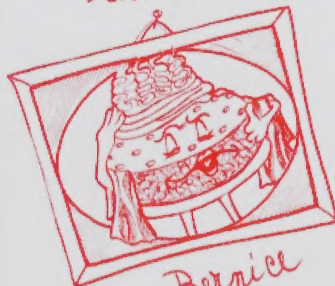

Charles

Bruno

Fred

Bernice

Scott

Fred

Bernice

Scott

Scarlett

Charles

Bruno

Scarlett

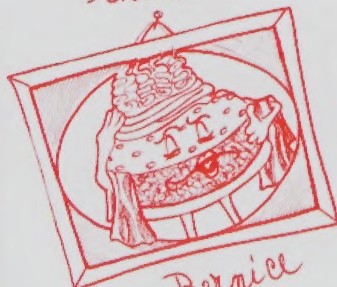

Charles

Bruno

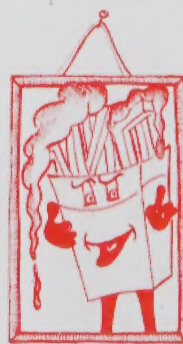

Fred

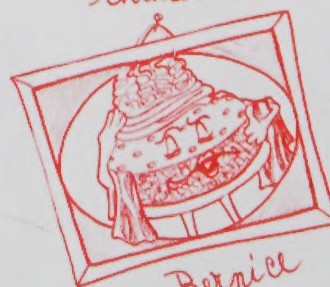

Bernice

Lcott

Fred

Bernice

Scott

Scarlett

Charles

Bruno

Scarlett

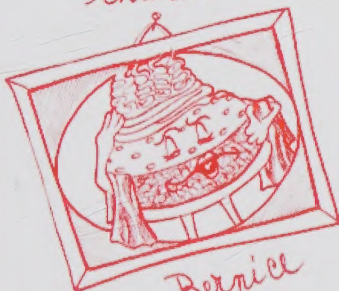

Charles

Bruno

Fred

Bernice

Scott

Fred

Bernice

Scott

Scarlett

Charles

Bruno

Scarlett

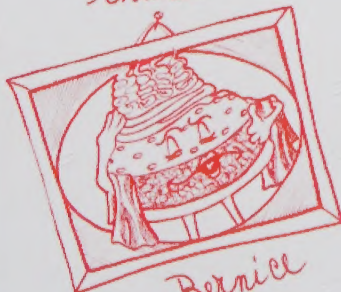

Charles

Bruno

Fred

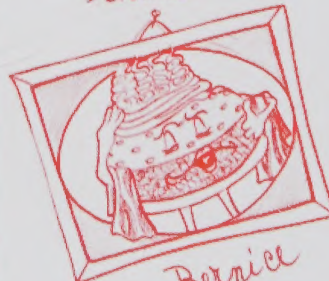

Bernice

Scott

Fred

Bernice

Scott

CELERY
CHARLES & PALS

Eat Well. Be Well

Created, written, and illustrated by Alessandra Calamai

In the world of Celery Charles & Pals the fruits, veggies and the fast foods live together and compete daily for the attention and loyalty of their most desired audience, the kids!

Charles and his pals' goal is to make young children aware of their eating choices through fun stories filled with colorful, humorous characters. While entertaining the kids, these stories will make them aware of what goes into their tummies and what foods are more likely to help them grow strong and healthy.

www.celerycharlesandpals.com

Copyright 2017 Alessandra Calamai, WORDIERME LLC, New York, NY, USA

ISBN 978-0-9970887-9

5 159

9 780997 088793